- Designs and delivers educational content, workshops, or instructional sessions for students, staff, or faculty, incorporating evidence-based teaching practices.
- Collects and analyzes academic and program-related data to support continuous improvement
- Provides academic advising, career development support, and remediation for students facing academic challenges
- Participates in student recruitment and admissions, including application review and interviews.
- Maintains accurate student records and manage program data
- Conducts career development sessions including assistance with CVs, personal statements, and job preparation
- Coordinates admissions processes: manage applications, schedule committee meetings, and interview events.
- Supports recruitment by organizing campus visits and representing programs at institutional events.
- Manages financial and administrative tasks including tuition waivers, vouchers, reimbursements (Concur), PCard orders, and office supplies.
- Oversees onboarding and hiring processes for students, trainees, faculty and staff
- Plans events by reserving rooms, coordinating food and logistics, and managing parking and scheduling.
- Maintains and updates program websites, newsletters, and shared email inboxes.
- Coordinates academic deliverables such as symposium materials, abstract books, and reports.
- Assists with preparing reports and documentation for accreditation or program reviews
- Ensures program activities and data collection meet institutional, federal, and accreditation requirement
- Stay informed of current trends in higher education, graduate training, and student support services by attending conferences, webinars, institutional trainings, and peer networks.
- Represent the department or academic programs at institutional meetings, recruitment events, and interdepartmental initiatives.
- Actively participate in departmental, institutional, or program-related committees, task forces, and working groups to support strategic planning, policy development, and continuous improvement efforts.
- Performs other duties as assigned
